A Telephone Exchange.

* Mr. M. F. Parish, the gentleman who has charge of the telegraph line of the Mackinaw division of the Michigan Central railroad, has been interviewing some of our citizens in regard to establishing a Telephone Exchange in our village. From the favorable expressions received from some of our prominent business men he feels very much encouraged over the prospect. The advantages of such an institution are so evident to all as to make it unnecessary to enumerate them, and our citizens will exhibit a deplorable lack of enterprise if they should not take hold of the matter and secure its establishment. Mr. Parish has considerable experience in the business, having assisted in organizing and putting in working order exchanges in different places in the state. If he can secure forty subscribers he will go ahead at once and perfect his arrangements so as to have everything in working order as soon as possible and take his chances for the future. He offers as liberal terms as are enjoyed in any of the cities and less than subscribers in many places are paying. He will guarantee all the latest improvements and as good boxes as are in anywhere for $45 per annum for each subscriber, payable quarterly. This is an opportunity that should not be neglected, and we trust our citizens, and especially our business men will give the project thoughtful consideration and take hold and help in securing a telephone exchange. Mr. Parish expects to get permission to run a line on the telegraph poles to Mackinaw City, which would connect our business men with that place, and should the state exchange be perfected, Cheboygan would become connected with all parts of the state.

Death of DeGarmo Buell.

Although not unexpected, the announcement of the death of DeGarmo Buell last Sunday morning, occasioned deep sorrow among his many friends in Cheboygan. He fell a victim to that insidious disease consumption, and had been gradually failing for some time. The deceased was born in Port Huron in October, 1848, and was consequently a few months over thirty-three years of age. He came to Cheboygan about thirteen years ago, and since then has been a resident most of time. An industrious young man, of exemplary habits, always attending to his own business, he made many warm friends, all of whom sincerely mourn his death. He was an affectionate son and brother, and was the main dependence of his mother and sister, and in the language of the latter, "was both a father and brother."

The funeral took place from the Methodist Church, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Campbell preaching an interesting discourse to a large audience of sympathizing friends who had gathered to pay a parting tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased, and exhibit their sympathy for the mourning relatives.

We have been requested by the family to express their thanks for the sympathy manifested for them in their sorrow and for the many kind acts of willing hearts and hands, both during the anxious hours of his illness and after death, until the remains of their loved son and brother were placed in the grave.

Village Council.

At the regular meeting of the council last Tuesday evening village Treasurer Embury submitted a statement showing the financial condition of the village to be as follows:

Balance on hand in General fund.....$1580.78
" " " Highway ".....402.17
" " " Water Works.....12443.83
" " " Redemptions.....3.59

Total.....$14430.35

A resolution was offered and adopted that an order be drawn on the Treasurer for the sum of $3401.39 in favor of the Water Works commission.

The Village Attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance to establish fire limits, taking in the following territory: From First street on the north to Upper Black River avenue, or Court House street, on the south, and from the river on the east to the east side of Huron street on the west.

Comic Valentines, at Smyth & Co's.

Railroad Notes.

Through the courtesy of H. E. Worcester, station agent, we are able to give the amount of business done at the Cheboygan station for the month of January. The receipts were as follows:

Passenger business.....$1420
Freight.....3275

Total.....$4695

For a way station, and considering that for the first part of the month the business was in somewhat of a disorganized state, as was naturally to be expected, we think the showing is a most excellent one for our town and the amount of business done cannot fail to be highly satisfactory to the company.

Tuesday evening General Manager Ledyard, W. A. Vaughn, Superintendent of the Mackinaw division, J. A. Dwyer, general freight agent, Chicago, A. W. Street, assistant general freight agent, O. W. Ruggles, general passenger agent, and Mr. Daly, superintendent of tracks, arrived by a special train and passed on to Mackinac where they spent the night. Wednesday morning they returned and stopped in our village long enough to inspect matters around the station and to visit the warehouse and dock on the river.

A telegraph instrument has been placed in the office of the freight warehouse and connected with the line.

The up freight train Monday consisted of 22 cars for this place and Mackinaw City.

There is now a daily freight train between this station and Mackinaw. The switch engine goes up every day after the arrival of the freight train from the south taking all freight destined for Mackinaw and points beyond.

Tuesday morning the warehouse was well filled with freight for our Cheboygan merchants.

The Goods He was After.

For years our well known merchant tailor W. H. Scott has departed with wonderful regularity at certain periods each year for Rochester N. Y. ostensibly to purchase goods. A few weeks since he was announced as taking another trip for the same purpose. He returned last Saturday bringing the goods he went after with him. The character is fully explained by the following notice which we take from the Rochester (N. Y.) Evening Express.

MARRIED.

SCOTT-LOGAN-On the 31st ult. at the residence of the bride's parents, by the Rev. John Graham, Miss Belle Logan to Mr. William H. Scott, of Cheboygan Mich.

We are of the opinion that Mr. Scott's trips east will hereafter be less frequent.

THE TRIBUNE acknowledges the receipt of specimens of the wedding cake and tenders best wishes for a happy and prosperous life to Mr. and Mrs. Scott, and in behalf of all extends the latter a hearty welcome to Cheboygan.

Is There a Ring.

Editor Cowles in writing up his trip to Cheboygan, extracts from which can be found elsewhere, charges that there is a "ring" connected with the water works project of our village and intimates that its affairs are being manipulated for the benefit of the said ring. Now, while believing the change from water power to steam power for running the works was a mistake, and in violation of the understanding under which the water works loan was voted, we do not believe that such men as Geo. W. Bell, C. A. Gallagher and T. J. Crumley, the gentlemen comprising the Board of Water Commissioners, are such as would enter into any ring for their own benefit where the public interests are concerned, or that would lend themselves to any other set of men or ring whereby the interests of the village would be jeopardized in the least. We believe them to be honest and conscientious men, and that what they have done in the matter has been done under the firm conviction that they were doing their duty, but as we said before we believe the change was a mistake. In justice to Mr. Bell it should be said he opposed the change until the last, and it was only after the decision rendered by the committee of attorneys, appointed by the council, upon some legal points that had been raised, that he acquiesced in the change.

Yesterday the mail service on the railroad commenced. The route from here to Petoskey, has been changed so that it connects with the railroad at Mullet Lake station. A petition has been forwarded to the department asking that a further change be made so that the connection may be made at Indian River instead of Mullet Lake.

A New Planing Mill.

E. T. Gettins, of Clyde, O., spent several days in the village this week looking over the situation here and judging of the future prospects of our town with a view of establishing an extensive planing mill and sash and door manufactory.

He left for home Friday morning fully determined, we understand, to locate here in the spring. Mr. Gettins is at present running a very extensive establishment, of the kind, at Clyde, occupying a large three story brick building, fitted with the latest improved machinery in all the different branches. We are informed that it is his intention to move the machinery from this establishment to Cheboygan. He is represented as having ample capital for carrying on an extensive business, is an experienced contractor and builder, and will come prepared to take contracts for buildings of all kinds, furnishing the material throughout. The indications are that there will be plenty of work in Cheboygan to keep all the mills we will have busy, and that there will be no lack for work on the part of any of them.

Accidents

Wednesday W. Tong, employed in John McIntosh's camp fell down a roll-way fifty feet chased by logs two of which caught him and rolled over him. He was badly jammed and bruised, but fortunately no bones were broken.

A man named McDonald was brought down from Mackinaw City Wednesday with a bad wound in one of his insteps caused by a cant hook. Both the above were taken to Perrin Brother's office for repairs, where they received the necessary surgical attention and are booked for a recovery in due time.

Four full-grown bears were recently killed in a hollow tree near Pinconning. First one bear put his nose through a hole and was shot, and then another, until four noses had come and gone. The hunter who shot them thought it probable that had been shooting at one bear all the while, until the tree was felled and the bodies found.
